

CHEMCLAD SC Provides Protection & Safety in Air Force Base Firehouse

Matt Goldberg, Sales Director of the Mid Atlantic Region, provided these photos illustrating a recent application at a Mid Atlantic United States Air Force Base.

The floors in the fire station were deteriorating from salts as well as other chemicals. The facilities manager wanted to repair and protect these floors while at the same time providing for a safety non-slip surface.

Matt was asked to provide a turn-key solution to the problem. The pictures illustrate ENECON's professional approach to solving some of the toughest facilities' repair and maintenance problems.

The entire project was completed in just a few days with a minimum of disruption to the fire house operations.
