

International Gas Manufacturer Solves Pipeline Corrosion Problems with CHEMCLAD SC

ENECON's exclusive distributor in The Philippines, Kambal Industrial Supply, received an "S.O.S." from a major industrial gas manufacturer - part of a large French multi-national company that is the largest in this industry. One of their local plants was experiencing severe corrosion problems on various cooling water pipelines for their air separation units.

The local ENECON technical team recommended CHEMCLAD SC to coat and protect these pipes from the aggressive industrial environment..

The results speak for themselves. The plant engineers were very satisfied with the results and have already asked Kambal to undertake another project at one of their other facilities.
